

COMMUNITY CONTROLLED

RENEWABLE ENERGY

Grassroots community action for a safe climate and social justice!

Imagine a world based on sustainability and community, where people collectively own and manage their own energy systems. Together we can create this world by building a grassroots social movement for climate justice. At Jura Books, we also want to model this world by installing a community-owned solar power system on our building. Please help us make this community solar system a reality. Any donation, big or small, will be greatly valued. Donate at the shop or our website www.jura.org.au

JUR BOOKS

Jura Books is a non-profit bookshop, library and social centre. We operate on anarchist principles - freedom, equality, and direct democracy. We host films, talks and gigs.
